California Water Quality Monitoring Council

I would like to announce a new water quality monitoring report that has just been released entitled, "Assessment of Surface Water Model Maintenance and Support Status" (attached, link: https://cfpub.epa.gov/si/si_public_record_report.cfm?dirEntryId=342391). This report provides a broad overview of several commonly used surface water quality models, including updated links to model websites, training materials, and selected example applications. If you have questions, please contact the Water Modeling Workgroup at: WaterModelingWorkgroup@epa.gov. My apologies for cross posting!

Have a great weekend!
